The Pro's who played in last weeks exhibition!

Last Sunday we hosted the pro exhibition and without question it was a great day. Between the play on the court and the occasional cloud cover it was well worth being there. The two male pros (me being one of them) had contrasting styles from the two female pros. It made for some outstanding performances by all the pros and very interesting points. It was so much fun!

The club mixed doubles championship are under way and you can check the bulletin board for upcoming matches to watch.

Last weeks interclub matches

Monday 2.5 men won 2-1. The 3.5 ladies won 3-1. The 3.0 ladies won by virtue of sets won and captured first place. The 3.5 men lost 1-3.

Tuesday was a day of great matches. The 3.0 men won 4-0 and the highlights were Jim Wyatt-JD Hurd winning 13-11 in the tiebreaker after 2.45 hours on the court. In the other match of the day the 2.5 women lost 1-2 Beth Ann Vaubel-Cheryl Hockin also won after going well over 2 hours 11-9.

Wednesday the 3.0 ladies won 4-0. The 2.5 women lost 1-2 but the two losses were both decided by tiebreaker.

Thursday the 3.0 men won 3-1

Friday the 2.5 ladies lost two tiebreaker battles and lost 0-3. The 2.5 men remain unbeaten and in sole possession of first place with a 3.0 sweep.

It was highlighted by Dan Riley and Jeff Shafer winning a third set tiebreaker. The 3.0 ladies lost 1-2. The 3.5 ladies lost 0-4.

The club mixed doubles championship continues and match times and results will be posted on the bulletin board. The men's and women's doubles is set for March and now is the time to think about who your partner will be.

Speaking of doubles the social doubles is this Saturday at 4pm. You can register on Chelsea.

Tip of the week:

One of the hardest things to deal with in tennis is the emotional roller coaster. You can be really high one minute and low the next. These are the experiences you'll have if you're playing for something like a team or tournament match . Playing for something is what makes tennis so special but at the end of the day try to remember it's only a game. Tomorrow is an opportunity to do it all over again.

See you on the courts, Mike Barnes!
