

TENNIS NEWSLETTER

January 13, 2025

This year's welcome back clinics were great as we had lots of eager players looking to tighten up their game. Many thanks to my volunteers like Jim Kushner, Tom Fleming, Harry Steele, Jack Galante, Jim Gelhaar, Paul Imhoff, Mercedes Baumann, and Tom Hughes. The weather was cool but the tennis was hot.

Last week's interclub results

Monday 3.0 Bonero ladies won in a sweep 4-0

Tuesday the brooms were out again as the 3.0 men won 4-0. The 2.5 ladies lost a tough one 1-2

Wednesday the 3.0 ladies won a tight one 3-2. The 2.5 bonero ladies won 3-0

Thursday the 3.0 men continued the theme for the week by winning 4-0
Friday the 2.5 men were not to outdone by the other teams so they won their match 4-0. The USTA 3.0 ladies ran into a very strong team and lost 1-2. Apparently the 3.5 ladies did the same thing as they lost 0-4. Missing key players takes it's toll but great experience for those who filled in. The 2.5 ladies kept the good tennis going by also winning 3-0.

This week's home matches

Monday 3.5 ladies also 3.0 bonero ladies at 3

Tuesday 3.0 men

Wednesday 3.0 ladies

Thursday 3.0 men

Friday 3.5 women

Please note that Ellen Hersey is coordinating a ladies round robin on Mondays at 6 it's open to all levels but space is limited.

JD Hurd is coordinating a mixed doubles round robin this Friday and he said it was a drop in so no need to sign up

Just a reminder that the men's drop in is Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday 8-9.30.

Ladies drop in is Monday and Friday 8-9.30

All tennis courts will be closed at 4:00 PM on Wednesday, January 15 for maintenance

Tip of the week

With the interclub season now under way and the club mixed doubles championship looming in February one idea you might consider is having the strongest player play in the AD court. The reason is that the game points often come to the person receiving in the AD and you like to have your strongest player making that shot.

See you on the courts, Mike Barnes!
